NEW Digital Resources Help Teachers Achieve Curriculum Goals Through Dance

Canada's National Ballet School's (NBS) online learning community now features cross-curricular learning units that use dance and movement to explore subject areas like science, geography and language arts.

Each unit includes a series of printable lesson plans, paired with demonstration videos that give you the tools to teach dance concepts alongside core curriculum subjects. Music is included and available for download in many units.

Visit the NBS Kids website to learn more or register now to access the free resources.

Quality Daily Physical Education (QDPE) Award Program

The Quality Daily Physical Education Award Program recognizes schools who offer QDPE and encourages excellence in school physical education programs. The QDPE Award Program requires schools to assess their physical education program based on a set criteria identified in the QDPE application form.

The program is also an opportunity for schools to examine and reflect on the qualities and characteristics of their physical education program, highlighting successes and encouraging critical reflection for improvement. For more information or to apply visit the QDPE webpage.
Deadline to apply is March 5th, 2020.
